

JAMAICANDAWTA.COM

Monique Matheson and daughter Marley travel the world bringing their Jamaican spin on solo travel with a kid in tow. We share the best of each location via video, a thriving social community and our blog.

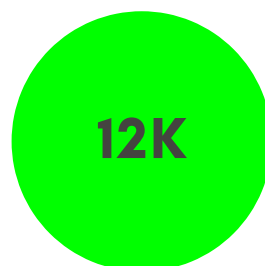

WHY US

There aren't many spaces online that feature single parent travel with a school-aged kid. We show that it's possible to take a gap year at any age and stage of life and how it can benefit the life and bonding of both mom and child by broadening our mindset through fun, adventure and worldly experiences.
